Reflections

EarthLab Cohort

- There is no one correct pathway to success
- Imposter syndrome is real!
- “Take chances, stay open, take advantage of the networks” - Ben Packard

Internship Site

- Be observant
- Take initiative to ask questions
- You are never alone in your work

Looking Forward

What I learned about myself	Where I want to go
